To Whom It May Concern:

I work with Shane B. and his family. I have been their Wraparound Facilitator since February of 2012. Jumping on a trampoline is the best outlet for Shane's sensory needs. We chose your company to get his trampoline from due to the durability of your product, and the ability of your product to accommodate a larger amount of weight than the traditional trampoline found in department stores. Your trampoline has held up better than any other trampoline the family has ever purchased. The frame remains sturdy and solid. The springs remain intact and do not come off of the unit when it is in use. I would like to thank you for working with this family. It is amazing to find a company willing to support and assist children with special needs, and who stand behind their product. We appreciate your drive to provide a quality product. We also appreciate the wonderful customer service you have provided to our client and his family. We will be happy to recommend you to other families in the future.

Sincerely,

Chrissy Brown
